

The TRUSTCard™ SOLUTION For A Single Mom ...

“I am a single mother of a 13 year old son. Most children are a handful and I can say mine is more than a handful! Between his energy, wants, attitude, “occasional” bad attitude and just the simple fact that he is a teenage boy and I am a woman on my own with him, we tend to clash and I have always found it challenging to find a balance when correcting him. I always wanted to please him and make him happy instead of punishing or, ‘hurting his feelings’. So when I would correct him I found myself too often dropping down towards his emotional level and ending up in a shouting match or getting so angry I felt like punching a wall.

“Well I am here to tell you that after using The Trust Card™ SOLUTION for just one week, my relationship and the way I handle him has changed dramatically. I have noticed now after learning how to release my stress via The Trust Card™ that our relationship has improved very much. We don’t argue like we used to and most importantly I believe he has gained more respect for me and I see a much softer, warmer child. There has been much less “attitude” from him towards me. He sees me in a different way now.”
A Very Happy Mom!
